Fulwell Cross Leisure Centre is located at High Street, Barkingside, Essex, IG6 2EA. The 18 week refurbishment project was completed in August 2007, marking a new era for the baths.

Works included the installation of a new pool filtration system; complete electrical re-wire of the entire building; treatment of existing steels with anti corrosive paint and subsequent installation of a new stretched fabric ceiling; a new static floor and boom, complete with pool covers; and extensive concrete repairs coating to the pool tank itself. The male and female changing rooms have been totally refurbished and improvements made to the ventilation systems.

Cabinet member for Culture, Leisure and the Olympics, Ronnie Barden, said, “I am delighted to see this much needed upgrade of the facilities. In particular, the refurbished pool and changing rooms will provide a much improved experience for our users.”

Facilities at Fullwell Cross include a 25 metre pool, teaching pool, fitness studio, and Vapour Health Suite.
